HOUSE OVERRIDES BONUS BILL VETO

GREAT CLASH AT ARMS NEAR

MEASURE PASSES BY 258-54 VOTE

Receives 50 More Than Necessary Two-Thirds Majority

SENATE MAY ACT TOMORROW

Upper Chamber Expected to Uphold Harding's Disapproval

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The house passed the soldiers' bonus bill today over President Harding's veto.

The vote was 258 to 54, or 50 more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

When the veto message was taken up, Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, the Republican leader, told the house the questions involved in the legislation had been considered for a long time; that members had had opportunity to study the president's veto message and that he doubted if any votes would be changed or anything gained by extended debate.

Announcing that he, unlike the majority leader, proposed to stand by the president in this matter, Representative Garrett, of Tennessee, the Democratic leader, suggested that there be an hour's discussion. This was met with cries of "vote, vote" from the Republican side and Mr. Mondell moved the previous question which was adopted and the roll call started.

SENATE TO ACT

The time of senate action was indefinite. Some favored the final test of strength immediately after the house voted, but others counseled delay until tomorrow. It was their view that with the bonus issue disposed of, it would be difficult to keep a quorum for action on important matters awaiting decision before adjournment of congress.

RANS OF VETO

In his message to the house, President Harding based his veto on the bonus largely on the ground of the failure of congress to provide a method of financing and the consequent heavy drain it would prove on the treasury. He made it clear that the interests on foreign debt could not be relied upon, asserting that even taking into account such payments as were likely to be received from that source the treasury faced a deficit of $650,000,000 this fiscal year and an even further shortage in the succeeding year.

The president declared that enactment of the measure would wipe out the result of the administration economy program and would entail further borrowings by the treasury, every one of which, he added, threatened higher interest and delayed the adjustment to stable government financing.

PLOT CHARGED TO RAILS BY UNION

Carriers Accused of Conspiring to Wreck Organization

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — With counter charges of a union wrecking conspiracy of railway executives injected into the proceedings by the defense, hearing on the union's rail strike injunction continued before Judge James H. Wilkeson today with only two days remaining to finish testimony and complete arguments before the temporary order expires tomorrow night.

The charge of a conspiracy to destroy the railroad unions made an affidavit by B. M. Jewell, head of the shop organizations, was offered to counter charges by Attorney General Daugherty that the rail strike was a conspiracy against interstate commerce.

Mr. Jewell's affidavit was read by defense attorney, Donald R. Richberg who today continued his attack on the injunction bill. Mr. Richberg indicated that he would consume the entire day with counter charges and argument.

In his affidavit Mr. Jewell laid the blame for the strike at the door of the Association of Railway Executives. Twenty-five rail heads clustered together in the operation of 211,280 miles or 82 per cent of the country's entire mileage, were specifically mentioned as responsible for conditions leading to the strike.

MENACE TO U. S. FUTURE SEEN

Secretary Davis Points Out Perils to Children

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — Flighty foibles and the flippancy of the "flapper," secretary of Labor Davis declared today in addressing the American Insurance Union, are disturbing evils in the social fabric of the nation which must be overcome.

"The iniquities of our younger set, the flippancy of the cigarette smoking, cocktail drinking flapper is all about us," he added, explaining, however, that he had "supreme faith in the youth of the land and in the mothers of America." The things, however, which had prompted him to concentrate his life and work to the services of childhood, he declared, were these:

"Two hundred and fifty thousand American babies snatched by death from their mothers' breasts every year.

"Half a million children, so-called delinquents and delinquents, growing up almost totally neglected.

"A million and a half American boys and girls bent beneath the burden of premature toil in mine and mill and factory before they have sensed the duties and privileges of humanity.

"Thirty million American children of school age face in our schools an education that will not fit more than one in ten of them for the places they must occupy in life.

"But more portentous yet," continued Secretary Davis, "looms the problem of the child in industry.

"Here, if anywhere, we face a real danger to the republic. Not in the grasping greed of the peddler of political nostrums is our peril, but here, where citizens of the future are broken, mentally, morally and physically on the torture wheel of misad industrial management is the evil which must be uprooted if America is to prevail."

Present plans are for the C-2 to cover the distance of 600 miles to El Paso in one day, with no stops being made until becomes necessary to land at Marfa for a new supply

LAWYERS CLASH IN PATERNITY SUIT

Objection Raised to Prof. Tiernan Telling Marital Story

WIFE COLLAPSES ON STAND

South Bend Case Develops Sensational Incidents

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (Associated Press) — Debate over the admissibility of testimony of Professor John Tiernan regarding the marital relations of himself and wife, was resumed when hearings were taken up today in the case of Mrs. Augusta Tiernan, wife of the professor, who charges Harry Poulin with the paternity of her ten-months-old child.

Testimony of Mrs. Tiernan which was corroborated by her husband, was to the effect that the couple had discontinued marital relations several months prior to the beginning of the alleged affair between Mrs. Tiernan and Poulin.

SENSATIONAL INCIDENTS

Yesterday's hearing was taken up for the most part with the testimony of Mrs. Tiernan and was replete with sensational incidents. At one point when counsel for the defense hinted at the possibility of Mrs. Tiernan's second child having a father other than the professor, the plaintiff arose from the chair and with tears streaming down her face, shrieked in a voice that could be heard in all parts of the courtroom.

"Don't try to say anything like that. It is not true."

Defense attorneys immediately changed the line of questioning.

Three times during the period which Mrs. Tiernan was being subjected to a merciless cross-questioning, the witness collapsed, but on being revived was able to continue.

Throughout the trying ordeal, she stood firm and refused to change a single instance of her story of the affair with Poulin.

Altho no announcement has been made, it is expected that Mrs. Mae Poulin, wife of the defendant, will be placed on the stand today.

COAL SHIPMENT BAN LIFTED

Priority Orders Revised by Commerce Commission

DETROIT — (Associated Press) — Detroit manufacturers found a ray of hope today in the news that the interstate commerce commission had revised its priority orders and lifted the ban on shipments of coal to industries not classed as essential.

This action had been sought by local interests for several weeks as the only official move necessary to ensure a sufficient supply of coal, most of the manufacturers declaring they were able to buy the fuel they required.

The effect of the commission's new order on the course of the Ford Motor Company which closed its plants last Saturday was awaited with interest. It was recalled that Henry Ford, several weeks ago, found an operator in West Virginia who was willing to furnish the fuel needed by the Ford company but it was impossible to move it to Detroit.

If the commission's order is correctly interpreted here and transportation equal to the task, only a few weeks should elapse, it was believed, before a normal supply of fuel was moving into Michigan.

Ohioan Killed When Auto Plunges From Bridge

CLEVELAND. — (Associated Press) — One man was crushed to death and another is unconscious in Nottingham hospital following an accident in which their light automobile crashed thru a railing of a bridge over Euclid creek early today.

The dead man is Vincent Mooney, twenty-five, Cleveland Heights. His companion, J. C. Mac, who, it is believed, was driving the car, suffered a broken shoulder, severe cuts and probably internal injuries.

FIGURES IN NEW BRUNSWICK (N. J.) MURDER MYSTERY

Shot through the backs, the dead bodies of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, pastor of the Church of St. John the Evangelist (Episcopal), New Brunswick, N. J., (left, above), and Mrs. James Mills, wife of the church gardener (right, above), were found in a lonely orchard where they had lain 48 hours. PROBE OF DOUBLE MURDER LEADS TO MYSTERY HOUSE

FURNISHED, NOT OCCUPIED

Letters Found in Rector's Study Held as Clues

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — (Associated Press) — The inquiry into the killing last week of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, wife of the church sexton, was centered today in investigating a theory that an abandoned farm house near the spot where their bodies were found Saturday night might have been used by the slain couple as a trusting place.

Prosecuting officers were expected to cause the arrest of one person on a warrant charging suspicion of murder. No intimation was given as to the identity of the person to be arrested.

HOUSE FURNISHED

Authorities were reticent to discuss their theories about the house, known for some time as the "House of Mystery," and which has been found to be completely furnished, altho no tenant has occupied it for some time.

The discovery of a pistol was the outstanding accomplishment yesterday. It was not disclosed whether the authorities believe they have found the weapon with which the two were slain.

Mrs. Hall, widow of the clergyman, and her brother, William Stevens, were to be questioned further by investigators today, as to their movements on Thursday night and early Friday.

LETTERS FOUND

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. — (United Press) — Six letters, alleged to have been written by Mrs. Eleanor Mills to the Rev. Edward W. Hall, were found by police in the rector's study, it developed today and furnished clues which may lead to speedy clearing up of the double murder mystery.

Names of persons who may have had a hand in killing the clergyman and the wife of his sexton were discovered in the letters, it was hinted.

OHIOAN TRAILS THIEF BY RADIO

CLEVELAND — (Associated Press) — One night in August the home of Daniel F. Murphy was burglarized and a large part of the equipment of his radio station stolen. Among the loot was a high powered sending set.

Several days later radio operators in Cleveland heard a new station sending out messages. The new station had no call number, was not licensed and could not be located.

Believing it was operated by the thief who robbed him, Murphy, an electrician, set out to find it. He installed a receiving set on an automobile and night after night toured the city, tuning the set to the pitch of the unknown operator.

Finally reported circling of a particular block failed to show any point where the messages could be heard more plainly than another.

Eric Kutz, lived in this block. Persons came to his home every day to see the set. As fellow radio fans, Murphy and his friends also visited the house. There they recognized the stolen apparatus.

Today Kutz was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Mansfield Reformatory after he had been indicted for burglary, larceny and receiving stolen property.

Kemal Troops Are Closing in on Constantinople

CHRISTIANS FLEE FROM CITY

Repetition of the Horrors at Smyrna is Feared

BULLETIN

CONSTANTINOPLE — (Associated Press) — The Turkish Nationalist assembly at Angora, by an overwhelming majority, has extended the dictatorship of Mustafa Kemal Atata and has authorized him to continue the war until all the conditions described in the national compact have been fully ascribed.

CONSTANTINOPLE

— (United Press) — Christians, fearing a repetition of the horrors of Smyrna, fled by the thousands today as the Kemalists were reported drawing nearer their former holy city.

Greeks hastily gathered their possessions and besieged the embassy for passports. They left the city by every available means.

Mustapha Kemal, according to reliable reports received here from Smyrna, has left that stricken city and is now in Nicomedia, near Ismid, which is 50 miles from Constantinople.

The Turkish cavalry, according to word received here, has reached the outskirts of Bithynia, on the edge of the neutral zone. Kemalists are known to be on duty near Chanak, where the British are entrenched.

The Greeks and other Christians believe they have two alternatives: Death or departure. No amount of reassurance from the allied forces here could stay the exodus.

To add to the confusion, thousands of Greek refugees from outlying territory entered Constantinople as others were fleeing.

Commanders of the Greek forces here were none too sure of the loyalty of their troops. There were frequent reports of mutinies.

ALLIES IN CONFERENCE

PARIS — (United Press) — A preliminary Near East peace conference opened here today.

Representatives of Great Britain, France, Italy and Jugoslavia met to present if possible the threatened clash between British troops and the Turkish soldiers under Mustapha Kemal in Asia Minor.

France, represented by Premier Poincare, acted as intermediary and attempted to induce Lord Curzon, British foreign minister, to hold in abeyance all belligerent action against the Kemalists pending attempts to establish permanent peace.

SITUATION THREATENING

As the conference got under way, word was received here that Kemal had moved his headquarters to the vicinity of Ismid in Asiatic Turkey which is 50 miles south of Constantinople and close to the neutral zone of the Straits of the Dardanelles. At Chanak, Turkish cavalrymen and British Tommies faced each other.

The French emphasized, it was understood, that England stood alone in her proposed action against the Turks. Poincare, it was stated, pointed out to Curzon a solid continental bloc of nations — France, Italy, Rumania, Jugoslavia — against England's Near East policy.

READY TO FIGHT

WELLINGTON, New Zealand — (Associated Press) — Parliament has unanimously confirmed the action of Premier Massey in announcing that New Zealand will send a contingent of men to defend the Dardanelles against the Turks if necessary.

TOWNS THREATENED

LONDON — (United Press) — Stirred by the military success of Mustapha Kemal in Asia, the Wahabi tribes have revolted and are threatening coast towns on the eastern border of Egypt, word received by the Exchange Telegraph today.

LABOR OPPOSES WAR

LONDON — (United Press) — "Stop the war" was the slogan of representatives of 6,000,000 British laborers, as the general council of the trades union congress met here today.

Leaders of the congress stated their constituents were decidedly opposed to military action against the Kemalists in the Near East.

It was anticipated that a scathing manifesto to the government against Near East intervention, would be issued by the congress.

Action is to be taken on the resolution of Arthur Henderson, which calls for organization of war protest meetings all over the United Kingdom.

The national joint council, representing the entire organized labor movement and laborite members of parliament is to meet tonight.

'Twas DREAM UNTIL HE LANDED IN COURT HERE

"It seems just like a dream. I can remember nothing."

Such was the story told by W. M. Wyatt, 25, Dayton, hailed before Judge Jackson of criminal court Wednesday, charged with being drunk.

He must have been intoxicated, he told the judge, because he could remember nothing of the incident.

POWER OFFICIAL IS COMING

Conference to Settle Current Question Being Arranged

PRESIDENT IS EXPECTED

U. L. Breed, Highest Official of Firm May Negotiate

All points in dispute between the city and the Ohio Power Co., are expected to be cleared up at a meeting to be held late this week or early next week.

During conferences in the past the commission has felt that it was not dealing with the real rate-making power of the company and that they were not receiving the best rates which might be obtained.

As a result they have notified the company that they desire to talk with someone besides Frank Eby with whom they have been negotiating in the past.

Information received by the commission is to the effect that one of the higher officials of the Ohio Power Co., or the American Gas and Electric Co., will be in Lima soon to discuss rates.

MAY BE PRESIDENT
Representatives sent here to date have been technical men, it is pointed out, and the commission desires to meet a man who will talk across the table with them in terms which all citizens can understand.

It is not known positively who will appear to talk for the power company but it is believed that W. L. Breed, president of the company, may come to Lima, and handle the negotiations himself.

While all of the demands by the city may not be yielded to by the company it is felt that a better contract both for street lighting and domestic consumption will be negotiated.

Arrangement as to the date of the conference will be made as soon as the city solicitor has reviewed recent proposals and it is known when the representative of the company will be in the city.

COAL LACK HALTS OIL DRILLING

Shortage of Fuel Interferes With Work Here

Lack of coal has caused a partial suspension of oil drilling operations in this district, Lima oil men state. Unless the situation becomes better a number of enterprises scheduled to start soon may be held up.

The fuel used under the boilers of drilling engines is the cheapest available, but nevertheless drillers declare it is difficult to secure it in sufficient quantities.

Among the biggest drilling enterprises which may be halted by the fuel lack is scheduled to be undertaken by two local men, Carmen Bolkin and George McMillan, and Jack Elias, Venedocia, and C. A. Peavy, Marietta, northeast of Slabtown.

Operations there are planned mainly on the assumption that the time is ripe for re-drilling, oil men state. Several good producers were brought in there a few months ago.

E. G. Henderson, Ft. Recovery driller who operates considerably in this district will soon start again after providing himself with a new rig, his old one having been totally destroyed last week in a fire near Portland, Ind. Henderson's loss is estimated at $6,000.

DUMBBELLS

Lima Has Some Mean "Thinks" Here's Interview With Her

LIMA, one of three Dumbbell children, led our Star Reporter a wicked chase Wednesday, as he sought her in an attempt to get the interview to which he was assigned. Ima started school Tuesday under the direction of Ma Shurza Dumbbell. She is a ninth grade student.

As a result, her first lesson produced results when she learned that a high school is not necessarily any taller than other buildings. She told the Star reporter of her discovery when he finally located her in the domestic science department trying to find out why a bill of fare is not the charge made by conductors on street cars. When she finally interviewed by the Star Reporter, she proceeded to dangle him with thoughts, some of which managed to find a permanent resting place on his note paper. Ima Dumbbell's prolific mind produced the following:

Why isn't a cannon cracker good to eat?

Is a candidate a sugar coated date?

A flower bed is a comfortable place to rest.

A road hog is an animal.

Railroad tracks are made by a train.

Moonshiners polish the moon.

A baseball diamond is a new fangled engagement ring.

Quicksilver is heavy going money.

An apple core is a part of the army.

Raisinjack is boosting the value of money.

Childhood is a baby's cap.

A dumbbell rings.

A bookkeeper never returns borrowed notes.

Do you know any dumb thoughts this family has? Send them to Dumbbell Editor, care of The Lima News. There will be another interview tomorrow.

FRIENDLY SPIRIT PROVES ASSET

Forbes Reveals Interesting Human Side of Business

12,000 AT FIRM'S MEETING

Stockholders Turn Out to Hear Annual Report

(BY H. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK.—(Special) — It pays to be human, to be frank, to be friendly, to be gettable, to tell the facts, to take pains to win confidence.

So one great utility corporation has found by practical experience.

Think of 12,000 stockholders turning out to hear an annual report of a company.

The annual meeting of the largest corporation in America, United States Steel, is usually attended by two or three score stockholders.

How, business men everywhere will be eager to know, has any company been able to arouse such interest among its stockholders. The answer to this question is one of the most interesting things relating to the human side of business, I learned during my whole travels in the West. The company is the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, with headquarters in San Francisco and serving an area of 42,000 square miles.

It is owned by 23,600 stockholders, 15,000 of whom live within the company's territory in California.

The four outstanding policies laid down by the management are:

First—Complete frankness with the public as to its policies, purposes and operations.

Second—Efficient service at as low a cost to the public as possible consistent with maintaining the company in a sound financial condition and thereby assuring the continuity of good service.

Third—Fair and courteous dealing with the public and its patrons as essential to creating that good will and public confidence without which no business can adequately meet its obligation of service.

Fourth—Customer ownership; that is to say the direct sale by the company of its first preferred stock to those residing within its field of operations.

The company inaugurated this fourth policy in June 1914. To December, 1921, 17,030 individual sales, representing $26,917,600 par value of stock, were made by the company "over the counter." From January 1 this year to September 2, 5,715 individual sales were made, representing $5,973,000 par value and making the total individual sales since 1914, 22,745, aggregating $32,890,600 par value.

Last summer the executives decided to supplement the ordinary annual meeting with a series of meetings throughout the company's territory.

Thirty meetings were arranged extending over eight weeks.

Approximately 12,000 attended the meetings and many brought other members of their family or friends.

Each meeting was addressed by President Wilkinson P. Creed, first vice president and general manager John A. Britton and Second Vice President and Treasurer A. F. Hockenhauer, while the local division officers also were on hand.

President Creed usually told the stockholders something like this: "This series of stockholders' meetings marks a pioneer movement in corporate management. English shareholders attend their annual meetings filling very large halls; but the American stockholder is ordinarily content to send his proxy. In a public utility company such as the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which is owned by so large a part of the public, mostly Californians, there is every reason for the executives of the company, in accordance with their policy of complete frankness, to go to their stockholders and furnish them with pertinent facts regarding the company and its business. Customer ownership is the best public ownership and the thousands of stockholders of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company represent so large a part of the public that better and wider knowledge of the company's affairs cannot help but be serviceable both to the company and to the public."

The report of each officer was followed by an instrumental or vocal musical selection and the meeting concluded by a twenty minutes moving picture showing the company's properties and its big construction work under way.

Each officer invited questions and announced that the door of his office was always open to stockholders and to the public, and the stockholders were urged to write or call for information if questions occurred to them later.

Isn't the bringing of annual meetings to the stockholders an example worthy of adoption by other corporations? Some of them badly need this to cultivate confidence and good will.

DURBIN WILL COME TO LIMA TO MEET "GEORGE." MAGICIAN AT ORPHEUM

W. W. Durbin, of Kenton, chairman of the Democratic state executive committee, will visit Lima Saturday, for the purpose of witnessing the performance of "George," the magician, at the New Orpheum Theatre and to visit with the man who presents feats that mystify.

Durbin and "George" have been close personal friends for a number of years. Durbin was formerly president of the Society of American Magicians and while he does not follow that work as a vocation, he is very much interested in it and is able to duplicate all the acts staged by the great mystics.

While he gives most of his time to the management of a manufacturing business in Kenton and to the work of the state Democratic executive committee, Durbin finds time to entertain private parties of friends at his completely equipped theatre, located at his home in Kenton.

The head of the Democratic state executive committee is very profuse in his praise of "George" as one of the leading magicians of the world.

ALLEN-CO WOMEN FAIL TO APPLY FOR HUNTERS LICENSES, RECORD SHOWS

Has the sport of hunting wild game become undesirable among Allen-co women?

John T. Cotner, clerk of the courts fears it may be true. Since the opening of the hunting season September 15, not one woman has made application for a hunting license.

There are usually several women who obtain license to hunt every season. Approximately 1,200 persons have been licensed to hunt in Allen-co up to date and not one of them is a member of the fair sex.

Wet weather is causing duck hunters to oil up their fowl pieces in anticipation of the annual flight of ducks to the south.

TRENTON RECEIVES SEWAGE PLAN

Colonel George A. Johnson Presents Complete Report
DIRECT OXIDATION FAVORED
New Company Formed to Handle Disposal Patents

City officials of Trenton, N. J., were presented Tuesday with a 1,000 page report on sewage disposal methods by Colonel George A. Johnson, noted sewage engineer, H. Jerome Johnson, direct oxidation engineer, announced in Lima Wednesday.
In this report the direct oxidation method of sewage disposal was unqualifiedly approved and a 20,000,000 gallon plant costing $1,500,000 was recommended by Johnson for the city of Trenton.
An eight weeks investigation of all sewage treatment methods in the United States was conducted by Johnson and A. C. Gregory, sewer engineer of Trenton, before the report was made.
Screen and sprinkler-filter system, as planned by the Fuller-McIntosh Co., for Trenton, the Imhoff tank, recommended by Fuller should be the first method; the activated sludge method and the direct oxidation system were investigated fully.
If the report by Colonel Johnson is accepted by the Trenton city commission bids will be asked immediately for the installation of the plant and it will be in operation by next winter, it is believed.
This is a similar plant to the one which has been considered by Lima and which was approved by Johnson in a report filed with the city last week. A copy of the report has been sent to the state board of health and their approval requested.
COMPANY IS FORMED
Hirst also made the first formal announcement that the direct oxidation system had been placed in the hands of a company competent to handle it in a satisfactory manner.
A $1,000,000 corporation has been formed in Philadelphia to be known as the Direct Oxidation Disposal Corporation. Offices have been established in the Land Title-bldg in that city.
Colonel W. P. Barba, former president of Midvale Steel Corp., will be the president of the concern and H. Jerome Hirst the vice-president general manager. Robert C. Walker will be secretary and treasurer.
Among the directors and stockholders, besides those mentioned above, will be Roland A. Taylor, Clarence Dillon, of Dillon-Read & Co., New York and Philadelphia bankers, and W. Hinckle Smith, Philadelphia financier.
Character of the men behind the corporation should assure the city of Lima that all promises and guarantees made by it will be carried out to the letter, Hirst believes.
Hirst was in Lima laying plans to aid in the carrying thru of the direct oxidation sewage disposal plans should they be approved by the state board of health.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion
Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion you have already tried peppermint, pancreatin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble in some cases do not even give relief.
But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bismarck Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but the pure Bismarck Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powder or tablet form.
Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.
You will find that provided you take a little Bismarck Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow, and moreover, the continued use of the Bismarck magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

WHY GROW FAT?
Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age
Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives, begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather like the fat, anyway."
But that shows—fat that comes and stays is not only unbecoming, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?
No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sickening medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, appetizing pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

POWER OFFICIAL IS COMING

Conference to Settle Current Question Being Arranged

PRESIDENT IS EXPECTED

U. L. Breed, Highest Official of Firm May Negotiate

All points in dispute between the city and the Ohio Power Co., are expected to be cleared up at a meeting to be held late this week or early next week.

During conferences in the past the commission has felt that it was not dealing with the real rate-making power of the company and that they were not receiving the best rates which might be obtained.

As a result they have notified the company that they desire to talk with someone besides Frank Eby with whom they have been negotiating in the past.

Information received by the commission is to the effect that one of the higher officials of the Ohio Power Co., or the American Gas and Electric Co., will be in Lima soon to discuss rates.

It is not known positively who will appear to talk for the power company but it is believed that W. L. Breed, president of the company, may come to Lima, and handle the negotiations himself.

While all of the demands by the city may not be yielded to by the company it is felt that a better contract both for street lighting and domestic consumption will be negotiated.

Announcement as to the date of the conference will be made as soon as the city solicitor has reviewed recent proposals and it is known when the representative of the company will be in the city.

COAL LACK HALTS OIL DRILLING

Shortage of Fuel Interferes With Work Here

Lack of coal has caused a partial suspension of all drilling operations in this district, Lima oil men state. Unless the situation becomes better a number of enterprises scheduled to start soon may be halted.

The fuel used under the boilers of drilling engines is the cheapest obtainable, but nevertheless drillers declare it is difficult to secure it in sufficient quantities.

Among the biggest drilling enterprises which may be halted by the fuel lack is scheduled to be undertaken by two local men, Carmen Potkin and George McMillan, and Jack Elias, Venedocia, and C. A. Peary, Marietta, northeast of Shabtown.

Operations there are planned mainly on the assumption that the time is ripe for re-drilling, oil men state. Several good producers were brought in there a few months ago.

E. G. Henderson, Ft. Recovery driller who operates considerably in this district, will soon start again after providing himself with a new rig, his old one having been totally destroyed last week in a fire near Portland, Ind. Henderson's loss is estimated at $6,000.

DUMBBELLS

Lima Has Some Mean "Thinks"
Here's Interview With Her

MA, one of three Dumbbell children, led our Star Reporter on a wicked chase Wednesday, as he sought her in an attempt to get the interview to which he was assigned. Lima started school Tuesday under the direction of Ma Shurza Dumbbell. She is a ninth grade student.

As a result, her first lesson produced results when she learned that a high school is not necessarily any taller than other buildings. She told the Star reporter of her discovery when she finally located her in the domestic science department trying to find out why a bill of fare is not the charge made by conductors on street cars. When she was finally interviewed by the Star Reporter, she proceeded to deluge him with thoughts, some of which managed to find a permanent resting place on his note paper. Ma Dumbbell's prolific mind produced the following:

Why isn't a cannon cracker good to eat?

Is a candidate a sugar coated date?

A flower bed is a comfortable place to rest.

A road hog is an animal.

Railroad tracks are made by a train.

Moonshiners polish the moon.

A baseball diamond is a new fangled engagement ring.

Quicksilver is easy going money.

An apple core is a part of the army.

Raisins are boosting the value of money.

Childhood is a baby's cap.

A dumbbell rings.

A bookkeeper never returns borrowed tools.

Do you know any dumb thoughts this family has? Send them to Dumbbell Editor, care of The Lima News. There will be another interview tomorrow.

12,000 AT FIRM'S MEETING

Stockholders Turn Out to Hear
Annual Report

(BY B. C. FORBES)
NEW YORK (Special) — It pays to be human, to be frank, to be friendly, to be getatable, to tell the facts, to take pains to win confidence.

So one great utility corporation has found by practical experience.

Think of 12,000 stockholders turning out to hear an annual report of a company.

The annual meeting of the largest corporation in America, United States Steel, is usually attended by two or three score stockholders.

How, business men everywhere will be eager to know, has any company been able to arouse such interest among its stockholders. The answer to this question is one of the most interesting things relating to the human side of business, I learned during my whole travels in the West. The company is the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, with headquarters in San Francisco and serving an area of 42,000 square miles.

It is owned by 23,000 stockholders, 19,000 of whom live within the company's territory in California.

The four outstanding policies laid down by the management are:

First—Complete frankness with the public as to its policies, purposes and operations.

Second—Efficient service at as low a cost to the public as possible consistent with maintaining the company in a sound financial condition and thereby assuring the continuity of good service.

Third—Fair and courteous dealing with the public and its patrons as essential to creating that good will and public confidence without which no business can adequately meet its obligation of service.

Fourth—Customer ownership; that is to say the direct sale by the company of its first preferred stock to those residing within its field of operations.

The company inaugurated this fourth policy in June 1914. To December, 1921, 17,030 individual sales, representing $25,917,600 par value of stock, were made by the company "over the counter." From January 1 this year to September 2, 5,715 individual sales were made, representing $5,378,500 par value and making the total individual sales since 1914, 22,745, aggregating $31,296,100 par value.

Last summer the executives decided to supplement the ordinary annual meeting with a series of meetings throughout the company's territory. Thirty meetings were arranged extending over eight weeks.

Approximately 12,000 accepted the invitations sent out and many brought other members of their family or friends.

Each meeting was addressed by President Wigginton F. Creed, first vice president and general manager John A. Britton and Second Vice President and Treasurer A. F. Hock, chairman, while the local division officers also were on hand.

President Creed usually told the stockholders something like this:

"This series of stockholders' meetings marks a pioneer movement in corporate management. English shareholders attend their annual meetings, filling very large halls; but the American stockholder is ordinarily content to send his proxy. In a public utility company such as the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, which is owned by so large a part of the public, mostly Californians, there is every reason for the executives of the company, in accordance with their policy of complete frankness, to go to their stockholders and furnish them with pertinent facts regarding the company and its business. Customer ownership is the best public ownership and the thousands of stockholders of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company represent so large a part of the public that better and wider knowledge of the company's affairs is essential to help but be serviceable both to the company and to the public."

The report of each officer was followed by an instrumental or vocal musical selection and the meeting concluded by a twenty minutes moving picture showing the company's properties and its big construction work under way.

Each officer invited questions and announced that the door of his office was always open to stockholders and to the public, and the stockholders were urged to write or call for information if questions occurred to them later.

Isn't the bringing of annual meetings to the stockholders an example worthy of adoption by other corporations? Some of them badly need to cultivate confidence and good will.

DURBIN WILL COME TO LIMA TO MEET "GEORGE" MAGICIAN AT ORPHEUM

W. W. Durbin, of Kenton, chairman of the Democratic state executive committee, will visit Lima Saturday, for the purpose of witnessing the performance of "George," the magician, at the New Orpheum Theatre and to visit with the man who presents feats that mystify.

Durbin and "George" have been close personal friends for a number of years. Durbin was formerly president of the Society of American Magicians and while he does not follow that work as a vocation, he is very much interested in it and is able to duplicate all the acts staged by the great mystics.

While he gives most of his time to the management of a manufacturing business in Kenton and to the work of the state Democratic executive committee, Durbin finds time to entertain private parties of friends at his completely equipped theatre, located at his home in Kenton.

The head of the Democratic state executive committee is very profuse in his praise of "George" as one of the leading magicians of the world.

ALLEN-CO WOMEN FAIL TO APPLY FOR HUNTERS LICENSES, RECORD SHOWS

Has the sport of hunting wild game become undesirable among Allen-co women?

John T. Cotner, clerk of the courts fears it may be true. Since the opening of the hunting season, September 15, not one woman has made application for a hunting license.

There are usually several women who obtain license to hunt every season. Approximately 1,200 persons have been licensed to hunt in Allen-co up to date and not one of them is a member of the fair sex. Wet weather is causing duck hunters to oil up their fowl in anticipation of the annual flight of ducks to the south.

TRENTON RECEIVES SEWAGE PLAN

Colonel George A. Johnson Presents Complete Report

DIRECT OXIDATION FAVORED

New Company Formed to Handle Disposal Patents

City officials of Trenton, N. J., were presented Tuesday with a 1,000 page report on sewage disposal methods by Colonel George A. Johnson, noted sewage engineer. H. Jerome Hirst, direct oxidation engineer, announced in Lima Wednesday.

In this report the direct oxidation method of sewage disposal was unqualifiedly approved and a 30,000,000 gallon plant costing $1,500,000 was recommended by Johnson for the city of Trenton.

An eight weeks investigation of all sewage treatment methods in the United States was conducted by Johnson and A. C. Gregory, sewer engineer of Trenton, before the report was made.

Sewage and sprinkler-filter systems as planned by the Fuller-McIntosh Co., for Trenton, the Imhoff tank, recommended by Fuller should be the first method; the activated sludge method and the direct oxidation system were investigated fully.

If the report by Colonel Johnson is accepted by the Trenton city commission bids will be asked immediately for the installation of the plant and it will be in operation by next winter, it is believed.

This is a similar plant to the one which has been considered by Lima and which was approved by Johnson in a report filed with the city last week. A copy of the report has been sent to the state board of health and their approval requested.

COMPANY IS FORMED

Hirst also made the first formal announcement that the direct oxidation system had been placed in the hands of a company competent to handle it in a satisfactory manner.

A $1,000,000 corporation has been formed in Philadelphia to be known as the Direct Oxidation Disposal Corporation. Offices have been established in the Land Title-bldg in that city.

Colonel W. P. Darba, former president of Midvale Steel Corp., will be the president of the concern and H. Jerome Hirst the vice-president general manager. Robert C. Walker will be secretary and treasurer.

Among the directors and stockholders, besides those mentioned above, will be Rolland A. Taylor, Clarence Dillon, of Dillon-Read & Co., New York and Philadelphia bankers, and W. Hinkle Smith, Philadelphia financier.

Character of the men behind the corporation should assure the city of Lima that all promises and guarantees made by it will be carried out to the letter, Hirst believes.

Hirst was in Lima laying plans to aid in the carrying thru of the direct oxidation sewage disposal plans should they be approved by the state board of health.

TRY MAGNESIA FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

It Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion you have already tried peppermint, anacardium, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bismarck Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but the pure Bismarck Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any druggist in either powder or tablet form.

Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bismarck Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow, and moreover, the continued use of Bismarck Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Druggist Tells of Easy Pleasant Way to Keep Trim Attractive Figure Even at Middle Age

Thousands of women who have had a trim, stylish figure all their lives, begin to take on weight in early middle life. And because they have heard of "Fat and Forty"—and because foolish starvation diets, ridiculous exercises and certain medicines only seem to make their condition worse, they give up all hope and say, "Oh, well, I rather be fat, anyway."

But that shows—fat that comes and stays is not only unbecoming, but may prove dangerous, a decided disadvantage to your necessary activity and pleasures. So why stay that way?

No special exercises or diets! No dangerous or sinister medicines. Just a cooling, sparkling, aperient pleasant to take—but quickly and noticeably effective.

THREE EMERGENCY POLICE WILL BE MADE REGULARS ON CHIEF LANKER'S FORCE

Civil service examinations for three of the eight emergency policemen appointed recently by Chief T. A. Lanker, and who were retained when 5 were released, will be held some time in the near future has been announced.

Lanker will make the three men regular members of the department in the event that they successfully pass. They are Patrolmen Mills and Good and Desk Clerk Robe.

The men released were Patrolmen Bacom, Ford, Crottinger and McClure. Record Clerk Baxter was the fifth man released.

The emergency men were appointed three weeks ago for strike duty. Return of shopmen to the B. & O. did away with the necessity of the additional men, the chief said.

ANTE IS RAISED

Judge Jackson Will Increase Traffic Fines Thursday

Warning to traffic violators that the "ante" is to be raised, was issued Wednesday morning by Judge Jackson of criminal court when five men appeared before him and were fined.

Fines will be increased beginning Thursday morning, the judge declared, in an effort to eradicate particularly light and muffer trouble. Speeders have practically been eliminated, the record of arrests shows yet burned out bulbs and blown out mufflers continue to form the back-grounds for excuses given by motorists.

C. J. Paxson, 1122 Laurel-av., was fined $5 for driving his motorcycle without a muffler. Earl Garrison, 206 Water-st., and John Sonnesfeld, each because of alleged light trouble, 805 State-st., were assessed a dollar.

H. R. Parlett, 1121 Carlisle-av., and W. N. Morris of the City Pressing Parlors, added complications to the traffic trouble when they admitted driving on the wrong side of street. Morris was fined $5 and Parlett $1. Morris was said to have blocked traffic on E. Market-st., by driving on the wrong side.

TWO WOMEN HELD

Three Charges Preferred—Ar- raignment is Postponed

Three charges placed against Mrs. Pearl Vinegar, 30, colored, 315 N. Central-av., will be fought by her it was indicated Wednesday in police court when she asked that her ar- raignment be postponed until Wednesday afternoon when an at- torney would appear for her.

A similar request was made of the court by Florence Nance, 25, colored, taken with the Vinegar woman, and charged with disorderly conduct.

Mrs. Vinegar, police charge, was drunk and disorderly, used loud and profane language, and fired a shot within the city limits, Tuesday.

They took her into custody fol- lowing a report from a white man who gave his name as Fred Carpen- ter, 327 N. Union-st., that he had taken a colored man to the address of the arrest, and had heard a shot fired after Mrs. Vinegar had cursed an unidentified person.

The gun, a .25-calibre automatic, was thrust into his hands by the negro who took it from the woman, he said. Carpenter took the auto- matic to police headquarters.

A thorough investigation was ordered by Chief of Police Lanker.

Judge Jackson fixed the bond of the Vinegar woman at $200, and that of the Nance woman at $50.

amusing, but certainly stuck me as funny.

"Recently I went to call upon a lady friend of mine, and her young daughter ushered me into the parlor, her mother being out on an errand. To my surprise, there sat before me a dapper young man, busily reading a book. He explained that he could not knit, and do all kinds of fancy work; and really preferred it to boy's sports."

NEXT CORNER, MADAM!

Walter McManis, 676 N. Main-st., tells of being on a street car when a large colored woman got up to alight at Baxter-st. The car gave a sudden lurch and she stepped on a woman's foot. The woman angrily maintained something about "knitting her where to get off." The colored woman spoke up quickly and said:

"I'm gettin' off right heah, mam," at which all the passengers had a good laugh.

PATIENTLY WAITING
Miss Lenore Rupp, 353 E. Market-st., sent in this one:

"A Lima resident had an aunt visiting her. They were down town shopping on Saturday afternoon, and the aunt became confused at all the traffic and the large crowds at the woman's foot. The woman angrily maintained something about "knitting her where to get off." The colored woman spoke up quickly and said:

"I'm gettin' off right heah, mam," at which all the passengers had a good laugh.

UPS AND DOWNS
Mrs. George Burgoon, 930 N. Main-st., has a small son who likes to remain up late at night. One evening his mother told him to come and get ready for bed. But Jack replied:

"I don't want to go yet, mother." "But you must, Jack. You surely don't want to stay up all night," said his mother.

"No, mother," with infantile finality, "I want to stay down all night."

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I HAVE a daughter who is engaged to a man who is a very good fellow, but I am not sure if I should let her marry him. I am not sure if I should let her marry him. I am not sure if I should let her marry him.

N O, a girl should not marry a man who possesses no high ideals. But are you absolutely positive your daughter's fiancé is completely void of high ambitions and standards? It is probable that you have not had opportunity to know him as his true self. Your daughter has had a better chance to become acquainted with both his virtues and ideals as well as his faults.

Try to avoid assuming a fault-finding spirit toward your daughter's fiancé. Look for commendable characteristics in him.

If this man's character is above reproach and your daughter is really in love with him it is not fair for you to discourage her. Adopt a motherly attitude and look for the good instead of the bad.

Dear Miss Smart:

An Insult That Caused The Worm To Turn

By ZOE BECKLEY.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

They called her "Cinders"—the wee-wee little waif from the orphan asylum who did the kitchen work in the home of the newly rich.

MISS STANLEY, because they wouldn't use her real name, SALLY DAWSON, the girl took of her name and then they called her "im-pudent" and "upstart."

Then entered the son of the house, the good-natured boy who sympathized with the weeping girl. "I'll talk to mother. What's it all about, anyhow?" And then he and the girl heard the mother's cry in the kitchen scullion.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

The tone and the insult from Mrs. Stanley dropped like a bomb on the two in the hall below. Kitchen scullion . . .

"Mother!" the young man cried in shocked protest.

She herself seemed overborne for the moment. Her real reaction came deliberately. She moved to the stairway and looked upward as the mistress of the house began to descend. In the girl's face was a dignity not unimpressive.

"I thank you for that word, Mrs. Stanley. I shall remember it—and I think you will too."

Sally stood there without taking her eyes off her mistress as she clamping a resolution into her will. Angry as the lady Stanley was. As she faced the small Sally, she looked the less notable of the two.

"Harry," she said, "I am astonished that you feel called upon to meddle in kitchen affairs. Please keep out of this."

The young man flushed and turned to Sally.

"I'm sorry," he said simply. "Sorry for—all of this. If Mother will not ask your pardon, Sally, I will. Forgive us, please."

His manner was genuine to the point of contrivance.

Sally smiled at him, a surprisingly radiant and charming smile.

"There's nothing to forgive YOU for."

The personalness of the speech left her a little uncomfortable, but it mixed in the emotions. His mother's rage was pure and unequivocal.

"Pack your things this instant," she cried venomously, "and never let me see your face again!"

Sally smiled with one side of her mouth.

"You shan't," she answered in a tone that seemed very low in contrast to her mistress' storming. "—until you ask me to visit you, Mrs. Stanley."

Sally left the hall with at least an afflictation of serenity. It crossed Mrs. Stanley's mind, despite her up-sets, to wonder where this founding could have acquired the bit of acting. When the girl had gone, she turned to her son:

"This comes of your mistaken kindness of manner, Harry. You only put ideas into the heads of such common—"

"Common is as common does," murmured Harry, glancing in the direction Sally had taken. And before his mother could retort, he had run upstairs two steps at a jump.

Sally climbed to the cubicle on the top floor, rear where she slept and packed her possessions in her imitation alligator bag, put on her serge suit and little round hat, got her wages, bid goodby to the butler, the gardener, Cleo and Mark the Chow nups and set out on foot for the trolley. Her thoughts were number but steely with determination. Never again should anyone have the right to call her "kitchen scullion." She was glad she had been called that—a harsh bugle from some enemy camp calling her to battle. Very well, she would fight all right! She would fight her way out of her cinder-heap origin—

A harsh bugle-note did sound just behind her. With a start she turned to see Harry Stanley zipping along in his little imported run-about.

ALIAS THE LONE WOLF

—BY LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ONE OF THE MONTALAIS, and the detective who had not violated the hospitality of her chateau in southern France, sent MICHAEL LANYARD, now the brilliant member of the English Secret Service, but once the notorious trackman, on the quest of her jewels. They had been stolen while Lanyard was her guest recuperating from the wounds inflicted by a Paris Apache, whose attempted highway robbery of the women of the chateau de Montalais had been frustrated by Lanyard. Lanyard suspects that the jewels were stolen by a band of thieves, masquerading as tourists, consisting of WHITAKER MONK, his secretary, HUNTER, the latter's brother, HUBBARD and the COMTE and COMTESSE DE LORGNE. Lanyard goes to Lyons and finds Dupont, who in turn is calling de Lorgnes. On the Lyons-Paris express, which is bearing Lanyard, Dupont and de Lorgnes, de Lorgnes is murdered in his berth.

GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XIII

Mademoiselle the Detective
In London, about noon of that day, Catherine deciphered a code message.

"Dear old bean: Please advise prefecture de police without revealing your source of information, unidentified man murdered on express stopped yesterday Hotel Terminus, Lyons, under name of Comte de Lorgnes. During entire evening being entraining he was shadowed by two Apaches, one of whom, passing as Albert Dupont, booked in same carriage with Lorgnes, but detained Lorgnes six-fifteen. (An admirably succinct sketch of the physical Dupont is here deleted.) As stranger in Paris I crave passionately to review night life of great city out as naturally timid about going about alone after dark. Only society of intelligent, accomplished, well-informed and agreeable lady can put me at ease. Can you recommend one such to me by telegraph? Prosune you have heard your old friend Duchemin is suspected of looting jewels of Madame de Montalais, Chateau de Montalais, near Millau. He counts on your discretion to preserve secret of his innocence pending further advice. Paul Martin."

here stopping Hotel Chatam. Too-die-o.

"M. L."

A telegram from London addressed to M. Paul Martin, Hotel Chatam, Paris, was delivered late in the afternoon:

"Prefecture tipped off. Many thanks. Fully appreciate you cannot trust yourself alone in the dark. Therefore, please fully delegating preservation your virtue while in

SHE HANDED OVER HER TELEGRAM.

Paris to Mlle. Athenais Rencaux, maiden lady mature charms whom I beg you will respect as you would my sister. Wishing you enjoyable intellectual evening—
It needed receipt of a petit bleu, while he was dressing for dinner, to cure Lanyard of an attack of premonitory shivers brought on by recollection of the awful truth that one is never really safe in tiffing with an Englishman's sense of humor.

"Dear Monsieur Martin: It is too sweet of you to remember your promise to ask me to dine the first time you came to Paris. Since you leave it to me, shall we say the Ritz, at half past seven? In case your memory for faces is poor—it has been a long time since we met, hasn't it?—I shall be wearing the conventional fast black with my very best ingenue expression and my feather fan will be flame-colored.

"Always to you—
"ATHENAI'S RENEUX."

Now that sounded more like... Mademoiselle Athenais Rencaux lived up in most gratifying fashion to the tone of her note.

She swept spiritedly into the lounge of the Ritz, a tall, fair girl, very good-looking indeed and brilliantly costumed, and placed Monsieur Paul Martin in one glance, on the instance of his calculated start of recognition.

"Paul," she cried in blitting accents, "I'm so glad! It's been simply ages... And looking so well! I don't believe you've changed a bit."

"And you, Athenais, always exquisite, but today... Truly one has never seen you looking better."

"Flattery," she commented. "But I love it!"

Meanwhile her gaze reviewed the lounge in one swift, searching glance, and returned to Lanyard with a drop of the lashes, signified there was no one present likely to prove dangerous.

"Flattery? To you? But impossible!"

He delighted her, and she showed it openly. But her lips said only "Have I kept you waiting a frightfully long time, poor boy?"

"Let your appetite accuse you, Athenais."

"But I am starving!"

"Then, as I take it, nothing on earth can prevent our going in to dinner."

Lanyard had already consulted with the maitre d'hotel over the menu and the reservation as the two settled down at a table on the side of the room.

"Monsieur received a telegram this afternoon?"

"Yes, mademoiselle. And you?"

"It is here—since I am. May I see yours?"

With a gay gesture she handed over her telegram from London and took his in exchange.

The ordinary cipher of the British Secret Service was as readily intelligible to both as if the messages had been couched in open French or English.

The girl was laughing as she returned Lanyard's telegram and received her own.

"Mature charms!" she pouted. "Enjoyable intellectual evening! Oh, how depressing! And are you going to obey that injunction to treat me as somebody's sister?"

"Never in my life!"

"I like that better. And," she inquired demurely, "may one ask what are monsieur's commands?"

"First: you will continue to flirt with me as at present—outrageously."

"Even when you make it so difficult?"

"And then, if I discover an interest in people I may chance to see, you will be good enough to tell me who they are and—other details concerning their ways of life."

"Perhaps I know them. It might save time if you would give me their names."

"Le Comte de Lorgnes?"

Mademoiselle Rencaux looked blank.

"Madame la Comtesse de Lorgnes?"

"If you could describe them, perhaps—"

"Useless, I am afraid, neither is an uncommon type."

"Are you then acquainted with a man named Phinuit—an American?"

"No."

"Mr. Whitaker Monk, of New York?"

"I met him one night with a gay party that joined ours at breakfast at Pre-Catelan. A quaint little stupid."

"Quaint, I grant you. But hardly little, or stupid. A tall man, as thin as a diet, with a face like a comic mask of tragedy."

"Paul, dear," said Athenais Rencaux more in sorrow than in anger, "somebody has been taking advantage of your trusting nature. Whitaker Monk is short, hopelessly stout, and the most commonplace person imaginable."

CHAPTER XIV

Sin in Beauty's Garb

In no city in the world is the doctrine of go-as-you-please—but-mind-your-own-business more studiously inculcated by example than in Paris, especially in its hours of relaxation.

Lanyard had not been so long an exile as to have forgotten his way about entirely, and with what was new since his time Mademoiselle Rencaux was thoroughly acquainted.

If there were anybody or thing a girl of her age—Athenais was about twenty-five—shouldn't know, she knew him, her or it; if there were any place she shouldn't go, she either went or had been there; if there were anything she shouldn't do or say or think or countenance, those things she—within limitations—did and said and thought and accepted or passed over as matters of fact and no consequence.

On the way to their table they, after a dance, were intercepted by a woman who, with two cavaliers, had been standing near the door of the restaurant. Thru a rising clatter of tongues her voice cut clearly.

"Athenais! It is I—Liane."

Lanyard was inclined to think he had never seen, this side of footlights, a gown quite so daring as that which revealed the admirably turned person of the lady who named herself Liane.

At the sound of her name Athenais turned with a perfectly indicated start of surprise which she promptly translated into a little, joyful cry. The living pillar of ivory, satin and precious stones ran into her arms, embraced her ardently, and kissed both her cheeks, then released her, half-turned to Lanyard.

Glins of trifling malice winked behind the open interest of troubling rounded eyes of violet Lanyard knew himself known.

So he had sacrificed for nothing his beautiful beard!

He uttered a private but heartfelt "Damn!" and bowed profoundly as the woman, tapping Athenais on the arm with a fan crusted with diamonds demanded:

"Present instantly, my dear (this gentleman who tangoes as I have never seen the tango danced before!)"

Forestalling Athenais, Lanyard replied with a whimsical grimace.

"Has one, then, so unfortunate as to have been forgotten by Madame la Comtesse de Lorgnes?"

But Monsieur is mistaken," the other stammered, blushing his lip.

"Surely one cannot have been so stupid!" Lanyard apologized.

"But this is Mademoiselle de Lorgne," Athenais said.

"Monsieur Paul Martin!"

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS HEE HAW RIDES WITH THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

Suddenly he stood up on his hind legs.

Nancy and Nick rode away from the Dingle Dell on Hee Haw.

Hee Haw was the donkey the old wizard had given them to ride, so they could hunt for the lost wand of the Fairy Queen.

But really Hee Haw wasn't a donkey at all. He was Flap-Doodle, the very fair the Twins were searching for and who had caused all the mischief.

But Nancy and Nick didn't know that, of course.

"Gid ap," said Nick, giving the donkey a poke.

Hee Haw switched his tail and trotted away.

Inside of him he was laughing and laughing. Hee Haw was, he thought what a good joke it was for the Twins to be searching for him everywhere, and here they were riding right on his back.

"I'll soon lose them," he said.

"I'll take them first to the thorn-patch and pretend to be frightened and drop them off. Then I'll run away. They'll never get out of that and that will be the end of them!"

After while not so very long, Hee Haw turned into a side path.

"Where are you going?" called Nick.

"Just here!" answered Hee Haw. Suddenly he stood up on his hind legs and Nancy and Nick rolled off his back like two ripe plums dropping off a tree.

The first thing they knew, Hee Haw was jumping a fence and tearing off down the road.

The Twins got up and looked around.

"Oh!" cried Nancy, "look at the thorn!"

"Yes," answered Nick. "And thistles, too! This is a fine place to bring us!"

Do this for your sake and your family's sake. It will bring a revelation.

Stop for 10 Days

Stop brushing teeth in ineffective ways

See what new beauty this new way brings

Nearly all the world over, leading dentists are advising people to brush teeth in a new way. Millions of people now do it every day.

You see the results wherever you look. Teeth now glisten which once were dim. Women have new charm, new beauty. They show teeth when they smile.

This is to urge all other people to try this method now. Your druggist will present you with a ten-day tube. Cease your old methods for a few days and see what this new way does.

Why teeth look dingy

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it. So that film, if left, soon forms the basis of thin dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

No ordinary tooth paste can effectively combat it. So millions of teeth brushed daily were clouded more or less.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Film forms a breeding place for germs. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

All these troubles were constantly increasing. Very few escaped. The tooth brush, used in old ways, left much film intact.

The war on film

Dental science then began a war on film. After long research, two effective film combatants were discovered. Able authorities amply proved their efficiency. Then they were announced, and since then leading dentists everywhere have been urging their adoption.

One acts to curdle film, one to remove it. And this is done in scientific ways, not by harmful scouring.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. It brings other new results now considered essential. It avoids several old mistakes. In this tooth paste are embodied these two great film combatants. The name of the tooth paste is Pepsodent.

Two other new effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which research proves essential. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for the acids which cause decay.

It was found that tooth pastes based on soap and chalk brought just opposite effects. That is one reason why they proved so ineffective. They reduced the tooth-protecting agents which Pepsodent increases manyfold.

These results mean a new dental era. They mean that your children need not suffer what you suffered from your teeth. They mean that film-coats can be combated.

A few-day test will prove this to you. Make that test in fairness to yourself.

Some Fifty Nations

Use this new way now

Careful people of some fifty nations now use Pepsodent, largely by dental advice. To millions of women it has brought new charm, new beauty. To men of many races it has brought teeth they love to show. To children it has brought protections which your childhood did not know.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

What you see and feel will very soon convince you. You will be delighted and amazed. Cut out this coupon so you won't forget, for this test is important.

N. R. D., ROTES TO FINISH THURSDAY

ROTARY and N. R. D. clubs of the Lima Business Men's league will fight to a finish Thursday afternoon at Murphy-st. park for the championship.

Facing the certainty of losing money on a five-game series to decide the championship, moguls of the Rotary and N. R. D. decided to cut it to three games. Two already have been played and the clubs are now tied.

The final encounter will go nine innings and will start at 3:30.

Strong lineups will be employed by each team to grab the flag. A pitchers' duel between Mont Hoffman of the N. R. D. and Don Robt. of the Rotary is likely. Hobart Maugh will work with Hoffman and Frank Sealts with Robt.

The remainder of the N. R. D. lineup probably will include Pittler, 1b, Goodrich, 2b; Herrett, ss, Wood, 3b, Schenk, 1f; Thomas, cf and Stonecker rf.

Other Rote players may be Walter, 1b, Snyder, 2b; Reynolds, ss; Thompson, 3b; Coon, 1f; Clark cf and Fenton rf.

The decision to hold the series down to three games is expected to attract the record crowd at Business Men's league games this season.

HOUSE OF DAVID

Wherever it plays the House of David baseball club, which shows at Murphy-st. park Sunday, starts discussion about the advantages of long hair and beards, says Francis Thorpe, manager.

Many persons who saw them play in the East, Thorpe says, conceived the idea that their long hair gives them Samson-like strength, accounting for the long distances they hit the ball and their exceptional arms.

Thorpe says the same discussion will probably take place here, but, he added humorously, he hopes Limasites do not take it as serious as many others, who even had mental vision of forming a long-haired league with the North End Longhairs playing the South Side Fuzzbeards, etc.

HOUSE OF DAVID

The House of David will be playing a much stronger team than they bumped into here earlier in the season. At least two, and possibly three new faces will be on the local lineup.

HOUSE OF DAVID

"Mickey" LaLange, Toledo catcher who backstopped here last fall when Spencerville and the Independents played the so-called "Allen-ro championship series" is the most likely candidate for the job behind the bat but nothing is certain about him.

"HUNGRY HEARTS," A BEATITUDE OF SCREEN

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)
"Hungry Hearts" is a beatitude of the screen that preaches the gospel of love. Like "The Jack Knife" it holds the attention thru the very intimate glimpse it gives into the lives of its characters. As the film unfolds its story you come to believe that you are actually peeping into the hearts and imaginations of the immigrant family that came from Russia in quest of beauty. You come to understand why the immigrant counts his pennies and labors long hours—not to come wealthy so much as to be able to acquire the beautiful things of life, to satisfy the longing of a heart from which beauty has been shut off by poverty and oppression. You come to understand that there is oppression in America, too, and those that weigh down upon the new immigrant often were immigrants themselves. There is a deep sincerity in this picture. It could not be otherwise, for "Hungry Hearts" was written by Anzia Yezierska, herself an immigrant Russian who labored in a sweatshop and worked at menial tasks to gain an eminence from which she could survey the beautiful things of life. Only a few years ago she was refused a job as scullery maid in a New York hotel because of her appearance. The cast of "Hungry Hearts" includes Rosa Rosanova, Helen Ferguson and Abe Rudin.

FEMININE JURORS CAUSE PROBLEM

Commissioners Plan Special Accommodations for Women
The matter of providing accommodations for women jurors in the court house, will be taken up immediately, following the completion of the comfort station, Commissioner A. J. Gray indicated Wednesday. A general plan for moving offices in the building will have to be worked out to create room for feminine jurors. Accommodations of a not overly luxurious character exist at present only for men. In case a jury partly composed of women is out over night during the coming term of court, some sort of temporary quarters will be fitted up for them, Gray said. In order to dispose of accumulated litigation another common pleas court will be created here, commencing November 1. The old assembly hall in the basement will be fitted up for the purpose. Judge Fred C. Becker, will probably occupy the regular court room. Probably a number of outside judges will sit in Lima at various times during the month.

SUITS DISMISSED
A suit brought by the City Bank, against F. J. Papenhagen, for the collection of money, was dismissed without record in common pleas court, Wednesday.

LIBERTY BONDS

NEW YORK — Wall Street's appraisal of President's Harding's message on the soldier bonus and its lack of serious concern over the Near Eastern situation was reflected in the strong tone at the opening of today's stock market.

Advanced steadily over a head list on comparatively light trading. Oil shares led the advance, Standard Oil of New Jersey pushing up three points in response to the announcement that the price of kerosene in the United States had been raised by a point or more.

Some of the outstanding gains were made by Lorillard and American Tobacco, Phillips Jones, Chest Peabody and American Express which were up 3 to 6 points. There were a few exceptions to the upward swing, British Empire steel found preferred dropping back five points and Mann preferred 2-1/2.

Under the influence of more favorable foreign and domestic news developments, extensive short covering and renewal of oil operations in special stocks, prices in today's stock market were bid up rather than in early dealings. The loans were modified somewhat last week when a number of loans were called coincident with the rise in money rates. Sales approximated $25,000 shares.

MUTT AND JEFF—HOW DOES JEFF GET THAT WAY?

BRINGING UP FATHER

—BY McMAN

SHORT SHAVINGS

Harry Kleinberger, Bruce-as, pianist, was up at 3:30 a. m. one day lately.

A neighbor's alreado was up a half hour earlier, barking a round moon which hung just above the treetops.

Kleinberger didn't get up to howl at the moon, reports his sister. He got up to howl at the dog.

Judd Lawrence, musician at the New Orpheum, recalled his boyhood long enough to attempt to roller skate when in Columbus recently. He was just able to keep his feet and was doing so by a mile short when an attendant who didn't quite grasp the situation, tapped him on the shoulder and said, 'Cut out out that fancy speedin' or get on the floor'.

L. W. Cole, 799 S. Elizabeth st. set a trap for rats in his cellar and caught a polecat. He didn't recognize the difference when he went to inspect his catch, until, as he says, 'The polecat put a cage on him. His best suit was a complete loss. He is in the insurance business. 'But unfortunately,' he says, 'I had no polecat insurance'.

Dan Campbell, clerk at the B. & O. railroad, tells about a friend who bought a new tall suit and wore it during the hot wave this September. He perspired so hard he wet his coat thru. He sat in front of an electric fan in his office and dried it out. The coat shrank so he couldn't button it.

NEW ONES

Ned—What was the excitement about?

Fred—A man in a reverie ran into a woman in a turtleneck.

Ned—Both of 'em now makes to me.
